Who are Dignity?

Dignity is a leading provider of funeral related services in the UK and their Funeral Directors and Crematoria have been serving local communities for generations.

They have a network of over 1,200 owned or approved funeral directors, with their own directors carrying out 73,500 funerals in 2015 alone†. In a recent customer survey, 98%† of the families they served said they would recommend Dignity to their family and friends.

Burials

A burial funeral is available in the plan, with funeral director costs being guaranteed in the same way as a cremation.

However, if a burial is chosen, there are certain services provided by third parties that are not covered by the guarantee. This is because burial costs vary widely across the country, so cannot be guaranteed in the same way as for a cremation. Instead a contribution of £1,200 (rising with inflation) will be made towards burial fees and any services provided by third parties (such as plot fees or Minister or Officiant fees).

Your money is in safe hands

Dignity places the money paid for their Prepaid Funeral Plan into the National Funeral Trust where the money required for the funeral is looked after carefully until it is required. This independent Trust Fund is managed with the aim to ensure every Planholder's money is properly protected. Every year the Trust Fund is audited. Dignity consistently publish an annual report on the Trust Fund available on request from Dignity.
