ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE: HOW WE USE IT TO SUPPORT YOU

We want you to know how we use technology to help you. Sometimes, we use artificial intelligence (AI), including generative AI, to make our services more efficient and improve their quality.

What Is AI?

AI systems are computer programs that process information and produce outputs such as:

- Predictions
- Content
- Recommendations
- Decisions

Examples of where we use AI may include but are not limited to:

- Summarising telephone conversations we have with you
- Summarising letters we receive from you

How We Protect Your Personal Data

- We only use the minimum amount of personal data needed for our purpose.
- Our use of AI follows the Government's AI regulatory principles.
- Our AI Governance Forum oversees new AI technology to make sure your personal information is processed securely.

Keeping Things Fair and Accurate

- Colleagues always check AI-generated outputs to make sure your information is handled fairly and accurately.

SHARING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

When necessary, we share your personal information with:

- Service providers
- Tax, government, and any relevant regulatory authorities
- Prosecuting authorities and courts, and/or other relevant third parties connected with legal proceedings or claims
- Fraud prevention and/or law enforcement agencies
- Fraud prevention agencies such as CIFAS and National Hunter – you can learn more about how your personal information is used here cifas.org.uk/fpn or nhunter.co.uk/privacy-policy/
Fraud prevention agencies can hold your personal data for different periods of time, and if you are considered to pose a fraud or money laundering risk, your data can be held for up to six years.
- Third parties where you have asked us to share your information
- Third parties where it's necessary to enter into or necessary for the performance of a contract
- Third parties where we are required to do so by law
- Credit reference agencies are used to perform credit, identity and fraud prevention checks against public (electoral register) and shared credit information.

All companies we work with are assessed for adequacy of their security controls, so we aim to ensure that your personal data is safe.

TRANSFER OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION OUTSIDE THE UNITED KINGDOM

Your personal information may be transferred or stored in locations outside of the UK. We will only transfer your data when:

- We're required or permitted to by law or regulatory requirements
- We're sharing data with a third party to support us in the management of your account.

When transferring data, we make sure that suitable protection is always maintained by ensuring appropriate safeguards are in place. This could be by:

- Ensuring that we transfer personal data to countries that the Information Commissioner (ICO) has deemed to provide an adequate level of protection
- Putting suitable clauses in our contracts so that organisations take appropriate steps to give personal data the same protection it has in the UK

If you would like more information on this, please feel free to contact us by using the details provided in this notice.

KEEPING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We keep personal information for as long as it is required by us:

- For the purposes described in 'How We Use Personal Information' section above
- To meet our legal or regulatory obligations
- For the exercise and/or defence of any legal claims.

When determining retention periods, we consider the following:

- The maximum or minimum retention periods identified by the law or regulatory guidance
- Our contractual rights and obligations
- Customer expectations, the nature of your relationship with us, your membership status and the types of accounts, products and services you have with us
- Current or future operational requirements
- Forensic requirements, for example, the potential need to access data no longer actively used in order to manage or respond to complaints and disputes
- The risks involved in retention, deletion and removal
- The cost of maintaining, storing, archiving and retrieving data
- The capability or restraints of our systems and technology.

If you would like more information on this, please feel free to contact us by using the details provided in this notice.

PROFILING

There may be some circumstances where we use your personal information for profiling (processing of personal information to evaluate certain things about you).

For example, to ensure that we're providing a consistent service and giving people the best products and advice at the right times.

We'll always make sure the way we process your information is safe and not unfair to you.

Where possible, we'll keep your details anonymous and use your information only to produce statistical reports. This way, you will not be identifiable from the data.

You have the right to object to us using your personal information for profiling activities. Please refer to the Subject rights section for more information.

AUTOMATED DECISION MAKING

There may be circumstances where we use automated decision making using your personal information.

We use automated decision making to check that we can enter into an agreement with you, and also carry out our legal and regulatory obligations (e.g. when complying with UK money laundering regulations).

You have certain rights over your personal information when using automated decision making. If you would like more information on this, please see the "Your Data Subject Rights and How to Exercise Them" section below.

YOUR DATA SUBJECT RIGHTS AND HOW TO EXERCISE THEM

You have rights relating to the personal information we hold about you, however, they may be subject to various exceptions and limitations.

You can request to exercise your rights at any time by contacting us using the details in this privacy notice.

Right to be informed: We are obliged to provide clear and transparent information about our processing activities of your personal information.

Right to request access to your personal information (commonly known as a "data subject access request"): You have the right to understand what personal information we hold about you and why.

Right to request correction of the personal information: If you believe that we hold inaccurate or incomplete personal information, you have the right to request us to rectify or correct your personal information.

Right to request erasure of your personal information: You may ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us to continue to process it. Please note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons.

Right to request restriction of processing of your personal information: You may ask us to stop processing your personal information. We will still hold the data but will not process it any further. You may exercise the right to restrict processing when one of the following conditions applies:

- The accuracy of the personal information is contested
- Processing of the personal information is unlawful
- We no longer need the personal information for processing but the personal information is required for part of a legal process
- The right to object has been exercised and processing is restricted pending a decision on the status of the processing.

Right to data portability: You may request your personal information be transferred to another controller or processor, provided in a commonly used and machine-readable format. This right is only available if the original processing was on the basis of consent, the processing is by automated means, and if the processing is based on the fulfilment of a contractual obligation.

Right to withdraw consent: You may withdraw consent at any time if we are relying on your consent to process your personal information. This won't affect any processing already carried out before you withdraw your consent or processing under other grounds.

Right to object: You have the right to object to our processing of your personal information where:

- Processing is based on legitimate interest
- Processing is for the purpose of direct marketing.

We may need specific information from you to help us confirm your identity before we can review your request.

The simplest and quickest way to request this information is by completing our simple online request form.
